

Fair Program Is Elaborate

Final plans on the program of entertainment which will dazzle visitors to the territorial fair, have been arranged and the following attractions will be offered:

Aerial parades and acrobatics are to thrill the fair visitors daily. The opening of the fair will be announced by a squadron's flight over the city and fair grounds in the morning of June 9, and on every day of the week following a squadron will maneuver over Kapiolani park, and stirring stunts will be performed by the daring aviators of Uncle Sam's service.

Reported by cavalry and infantry, to the flourish of trumpets and participated in by Governor McCarthy, Colonel Schofield, Chairman Paris, the department commander and the naval station commandant, the unfurling of the American and territorial flags and the accompanying exercises of the opening ceremony will be most impressive.

Then the fair will be open to the populace.

On the first day, following aerial spectacles, opening ceremony, parade and inspection of the exposition, there will be a band concert, horse races, trapshooting, polo, dismounted ceremony by infantry, and, in the evening, another band concert and tug of war tournament; Palama girls in pyramidal pictures, a military display under the title of "A Night in Camp," boxing and wrestling.

"Kiddies" Day Is Set
Tugs of war occur every night in the week, and boxing and wrestling exhibitions. Every day one or more of the eight military and civilian bands discourse in front of the grandstand.

The second day, June 10, will be "Kiddies' Day" in the afternoon between 1 and 5 o'clock, when the children of the public schools will take in the entire fair as the guests of the fair commission.

On this day there will be competitive company and individual drills of the military schools and academies, pyramidal tent pitching by the 1st Hawaiian Infantry, two exciting and spectacular hours with the 17th Cavalry in marvelous feats of pluck and training, an exhibition by the boys' clubs of Honolulu, and a breezy half hour with the "Devil Dogs," the irrepressible, insurmountable U. S. marines.

Wednesday is Kamehameha Day and crammed with events; concerts, horse races, 1st Hawaiian Infantry's dismounted ceremony, "A Night in Old Hawaii," boxing, wrestling, aerobatics.

Thursday, the fourth day, will see the sugar cane loading contest, or "Hapai Ko," ambulance train in action, military drivers' contest, Boy Scout demonstration, dismounted ceremony by infantry, a night attack in which all arms of the service will participate.

A grand military athletic tournament occurs on Friday, June 13. There will be also the A. A. U. track and field meet, and a mounted ceremony by the 17th Cavalry and "A Night in Old Japan."

On the last day, Saturday, horse races, polo, dismounted ceremony, grand tattoo and Flag Day ceremony.

LOADS LARGEST CARGO

GALVESTON, Tex., May 21—(By Associated Press)—The distinction of carrying the largest cargo ever contained in the hold of a vessel is claimed by shipping men for the British steamship Indore, which left here for Liverpool with 28,386 square bales of cotton. This was accomplished by a method of scientifically compressing the bales until they occupied minimum space. The closest approach to the record was made by the Russian Steamship Omsk which in December, 1917 carried 27,130 square bales from Galveston to Liverpool. A strict news censorship would not permit mention of that record.

"The Secret Garden"

Mary Lennox, daughter of a British army officer in India, is left an orphan and friendless when a plague sweeps the country. She is sent to England to live with her appointed guardian, Archibald Craven, a crabbed old gentleman who has soured on the world since the death of his wife. His son, Colin, a weakling, is constantly made the weaker by Dr. Warren Craven, his uncle. The doctor insists that his nephew wear a heavy brace to straighten his back, when in reality it saps his vitality. The doctor's brutal actions are motivated by a desire to get rid of Colin that he may acquire the Craven fortune. One night Mary hears Colin groaning and, going to his room, she removes the brace. He then sleeps quietly. She is severely reprimanded by the doctor and the housekeeper for her action.

Back of the Craven home lies a garden surrounded by a wall. It has remained locked to all since the death of Craven's wife. Martha, a maid and Mary's only friend, tells her this story. One day Mary braves the wrath of the entire Craven household and gives the gardener instructions to make the place beautiful again. In time, Colin grows to trust Mary and at her suggestion he casts off the brace and finds that he can walk perfectly well without it. The doctor sees that he is losing ground in his plot and decides to get rid of Colin quickly. He poisons his drinking water but is seen by both Mary and his intended victim. Mary, realizing the seriousness of the situation, goes across a vast bog for help. She is sucked into the mud but Colin arrives in time to save her.

Then Archibald Craven, who had been away, returns and learns the whole story. The doctor sees his game is up and beats a hasty retreat. Colin is now healthy and his father's faith in humanity is restored. Three years later Mary is the bride of Colin—a lieutenant in the British army.

"The Romance of Happy Valley"
John L. Logan, Jr., lives with his parents in a placid Ohio town. His father runs a boarding house, and from a boarder the boy becomes imbued with a desire to see the great world. In spite of the efforts of his parents and of Jennie Timberlake, his sweetheart, he goes, promising to return at the end of a year a rich man. The days become a year, and the boy does not return. The years pass on. Old Logan has invested heavily in a new hotel, and his affairs are at a crisis. Then the boy does come, for he has found fortune at last, and once more all is peaceful in Happy Valley.

Feature Lillian Gish as Jennie Timberlake and Robert Harron as John L. Logan.

"His Parisian Wife"

In Paris, Martin Wesley, a young American lawyer, meets Fauvette, a reporter on one of the city's newspapers. After a brief courtship he marries her and then takes her home with him to his people in Boston. Wesley's parents treat his wife coldly. They look upon anything from the French city with a degree of horror, and though Fauvette has beauty, breeding and refinement, they instantly brand her as unfit company for the ancient New England stock that they are. This attitude of his parents to ward Fauvette begins to take root in Wesley, finally, and he asks himself, "Might she not have a past, after all?" He shortly begins to treat her cruelly by sometimes ignoring her and sometimes asserting what he believes to be his rights as a husband.

On the night that Tony Rye, Wesley's friend, comes for dinner, Fauvette appears in a rather low-cut gown and this causes the cloud-burst. Wesley upbraids her. Afterwards Wesley leaves her to enable her to divorce him. Fauvette goes to New York and soon makes a success of writing. Her books bear the name of "Marie Trieste," an authoress, and she soon becomes widely known under this name. Wesley, who at first turned to drink to forget his wife, reforms and makes a name, winning an important law case. He decides to go to New York and lays a plan. He is well aware that Tony admires—even loves—his wife and his plan is to win her back for himself and then tell her that she can go to Tony!

But when he again comes in contact with her, Wesley realizes more than ever that he really loves his wife. And instead of carrying out his ironical revenge he begs her forgiveness and offers himself to her. So, each realizing their shortcomings, they arrive at a happy understanding at last.

Students Course Now Three Years

The College of Hawaii announces that hereafter students who wish to enter a technical school after graduation from college may save one year in their education and still secure the Bachelor's degree in addition to the technical degree.

The plan is this. A student attends the local College for three years and if his record is satisfactory he is transferred to a medical or law college or some other technical school on the mainland where he enters upon their regular program of work. At the end of the first year in the technical school the College of Hawaii will award a diploma of graduation to the student, provided the mainland school certifies to this College that his work has been satisfactory. This applies to only certain technical schools with which the proper arrangements have been made. The standard is not thereby lowered, but, the fourth year is spent in another institution.

This is a practical step forward, saving a year for young men and still giving them the college diploma. It is a practice being taken up by more and more mainland colleges and universities and should be a good thing for Hawaii's College.

FRIEND OF BELGIUM HOOVER'S TITLE

LONDON, April 23—(By Associated Press)—Some time ago the King of the Belgians conferred on Herbert C. Hoover, the founder and first president of the Commission for Relief in Belgium, the title of Friend of Belgium. To commemorate the conferring of this unique title the Belgian Order of St. John of Jerusalem has opened a subscription for the purpose of offering Mr. Hoover an address, and also a work of art symbolizing the life which this American managed to maintain in the oppressed country during the German occupation. The Belgian Army joined in the movement and each unit has sent a subscription. The contribution from the army alone is more than $3,500.

WILLIAM THE SAINT DEPOSED

METZ, France, April 20—(By Associated Press)—In the south of Metz cathedral stands a statue of Daniel the Prophet, to which a sculptor had given a marked facial likeness to former Emperor William. When the French took possession of the city, they put a pair of handcuffs on the Emperor-prophet's wrists, from which hung a placard inscribed "Sic transit gloria mundi."

Now the statue is to be taken away altogether and a new one substituted by a local artist. A fund for this purpose has been opened here.
